4. Tier I: Active Travel & Alpine

rivieraandridge.com/services/travel-alpine

Tier I

For internationally mobile families

One constant, wherever you travel.

What this looks like

- Week- or month-long engagements, single- or multi-location.
- One qualified educator as the constant reference for the children — continuity over rotation.
- Clear written brief: routines, languages, school, allergies, boundaries.
- Discreet coordination with existing household staff (housekeepers, drivers, tutors) where present.
- Travel itinerary coordination: acclimatisation support, activity programming, outdoor competence across terrain and time zones.

Typical fit

- Families based across several residences (e.g. Zurich · London · Dubai · Zermatt).
- Children aged roughly 3–14, single- or multilingual.
- Ski families in Zermatt who want a companion with alpine competence and pedagogical depth.
- Households that value a professional educator over a generalist.

Indicative frame

- Rates confirmed after the qualifying conversation
- Travel, accommodation & per diems arranged separately
- Languages: EN · DE · FR

5. Tier II: Behavioral & Harmony Coaching

rivieraandridge.com/services/behavioral-harmony

Tier II

For children who need a different approach

Calm that holds. Structure that carries.

What this looks like

- Engagements from days to weeks, integrated into the family's daily rhythm.
- Behavioural guidance: clear frames, consistent boundaries, age-appropriate emotional regulation support.
- Conflict resolution within sibling groups or between children and existing staff.
- Developmental observation and enrichment — with a focus on strengths, not labels.
- Mindfulness and yoga-based techniques where appropriate (certified children's yoga teacher, 3HO).

Typical fit

- Children who respond to calm authority rather than entertainment.
- Families seeking a qualified educator's perspective on challenging dynamics — pedagogical depth grounded in decades of practice.
- Households where existing care works day-to-day, but particular situations call for a different skillset.

Indicative frame

- Rates confirmed after the qualifying conversation
- Available standalone or as add-on to Tier I
- Languages: EN · DE · FR

→ Request a conversation

A note on scope

Professional childcare — with depth.

When children feel emotionally safe, everything else becomes easier.

Every engagement begins with a qualifying conversation.

6. Tier III: Elite Relief & Emergency

rivieraandridge.com/services/elite-relief

Tier III

When your live-in nanny is unavailable

Cover that carries the household — without rewriting it.

What this looks like

- Engagements from a weekend to several weeks.
- A structured hand-over from your existing nanny or household manager — routines, allergies, preferences — read, confirmed, followed.
- The goal is seamless continuity, not reinvention.
- Written close-out at the end of the engagement, ready for your returning staff.
- Sole charge or shared care, depending on the family's structure.

Typical fit

- Families with an existing live-in nanny who needs leave or medical cover.
- Situations requiring a qualified educator at short notice — a professional presence that carries the household through a transition.
- Household managers or family offices coordinating on behalf of the family.
- Nanny agencies looking for a qualified educator to step in (see For Agencies).

Indicative frame

- Rates confirmed after the qualifying conversation
- Availability confirmed in writing before booking
- Languages: EN · DE · FR

→ Request a conversation

Continuity is underrated. Especially while travelling.
